

I do not want telemarketers calling me but maybe something can be done like limiting the hours they can call like 9-5 pm Monday thru Friday, maybe 4 hours on Saturday but not allowed to call on Sunday. Also, for people that have the caller Id service, the company and phone number should appear on caller ID. Quite often I have asked for the company name to keep track of who's calling and they hang up on me, so now I slam the phone down on them only after I tell them to never call me again but since I am not told who the company is actually doing the calling, I never know if they call again.

Thanks
